President's Message

Frank J. Spula, President

Dear Directors,

With October being Heritage Month, I hope the state divisions were engaged in promoting various programs in their areas, by highlighting the accomplishments and contributions of Poles and Polish Americans have made in this country as well as over the entire world.

October 15th, 2017 was the 200th anniversary of the death of General Thaddeus Kosciuszko. Over the years, monuments have been erected all over the world in recognition for his heroism. On Sunday, October 15th, I had the pleasure of attending the ceremony and representing the organization in Washington D.C.

The program was arranged by the Embassy of the Republic of Poland. Ambassador Piotr Wilczek and Ambassador Rolandas Krišciūnas of Lithuania made remarks on behalf of countries they represent, and I spoke on behalf of the Polish American community.

The monument was donated to the United States government by the Polish National Alliance in 1910.

“Your Voice in America” newsletter is published bimonthly by the Polish American Congress. The purpose of the newsletter is to offer PAC National Directors and PAC Executive Committee members the opportunity to share news and information about their state divisions and offices. The newsletter does not receive funds from any external source. The editor is Dr. Mark Pienkos.

Articles should be between 100 and 400 words. Some editing will be done to match our style guidelines and spatial constraints, as well as correcting grammatical errors. We do not send proofs for approval. When sending photos, please include captions with names, official titles. All submitted materials become the property of the Polish American Congress and may be used to promote the mission of the PAC. Materials will not be returned unless requested.

Articles are due according to this schedule. Send your submissions to PAC National VP for Public Relations, Mark Pienkos at markpienkos2012@gmail.com.

Unfortunately, I was unable to attend the Council of Directors meeting in Washington due to medical reasons; I appreciate Secretary Kuzma chairing the assembly. I was pleased to hear positive comments about the meeting itself. Thank you to the Executive Committee, Ms. Wisniewska and Mr. Czop in assisting with the conference.

I was delighted to learn that the speakers did an excellent presentation. I am optimistic that the programs presented will come to fruition over the upcoming months. I appreciate the card with your wishes.

The visits to Capitol Hill and meetings with elected officials are paramount to achieving further success for the Polish American Congress and should be continued. Developing personal contacts with elected officials is imperative in strengthening political influence. This should also be done on a local level in your respective divisions, by doing so more programs or initiatives can be implemented.

We still have time to think of ways to commemorate the upcoming anniversary of Polish independence and promoting it to the American community. Feel free to share your thought on this topic.

President Donald J. Trump Proclaims October 11, 2017, as the 88th anniversary of General Pulaski Memorial Day

GENERAL PULASKI MEMORIAL DAY, 2017

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, A PROCLAMATION

Today, we commemorate General Casimir Pulaski, a Polish immigrant whose heroic contributions to the American Revolutionary War helped shape our Nation's history. Known as the "Father of the American Cavalry," General Pulaski demonstrated bravery as a soldier and exceptional leadership as a military officer. General Pulaski is internationally renowned for having supported and fought for independence and freedom, both in his native Poland and in the United States.

Born into Polish nobility, General Pulaski and his family fought to preserve a free and self-governing Poland. Exiled from his country after a failed uprising against Russian control of Poland, the Marquis de Lafayette and Benjamin Franklin recruited General Pulaski to join the fight for freedom in the American Revolution. During his first military engagement with the British, at the Battle of Brandywine, General Pulaski led a courageous charge that averted a defeat of the American cavalry, saving the life of General George Washington and earning him the rank of Brigadier General in the United States Continental Army.

General Pulaski gave his complete devotion to the American cause for freedom. He spent the harsh winter that ran from 1777 into 1778 at Valley Forge with General Washington, and used his own personal finances to supply his cavalry legion when resources were scarce. Fatefully, on October 9, 1779, General Pulaski was severely wounded leading a daring charge against British forces, this time in the Battle of Savannah. General Pulaski died shortly thereafter, paying the ultimate sacrifice for his adopted American compatriots.

General Pulaski once wrote to General Washington: "I came here, where freedom is being defended, to serve it, and to live or die for it." In recognition of his selfless devotion to our country and its cause, the Congress, in 2009, granted honorary citizenship to General Pulaski, one of only eight people ever to have earned this distinction. He is an example for all those who love freedom and seek the courage to defend it.

General Pulaski's defense of the Polish-American values of liberty, the rule of law, and the sovereignty of the people symbolizes the close bond between the United States and Poland. We have helped one another in the most challenging of times, from the American Revolution to the Polish liberation from communism. Today, our strong bilateral relationship with Poland, forged initially by remarkable individuals like General Pulaski, continues to enhance the important security, economic, and social ties that help bring prosperity to both countries.

More than 200 years after General Pulaski's heroic death, there are 9.5 million Americans of Polish descent. They carry forward General Pulaski's legacy by protecting our shared values, strengthening our cultural heritage, and serving in our Armed Forces. They remind us that the story of Poland, like the story of America, is of a people who have never lost hope, have never been broken, and have never forgotten who they are.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DONALD J. TRUMP, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the laws of the United States, do hereby proclaim October 11, 2017, as the 88th anniversary of General Pulaski Memorial Day. I encourage all Americans to commemorate on this occasion those who have contributed to the furthering of our Nation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this tenth day of October, in the year of our Lord two thousand seventeen, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-second.

DONALD J. TRUMP

General Casimir Pulaski

Congressional Caucus on Poland

We are proud to present the PAC national directors with the roster of the Congressional Caucus on Poland. This Caucus is anything but uniformly pro-Polish. It was established in 1991 to put United States Government pressure on Poland to pay lump-sum compensation for private property formerly owned by Jews on conquered Polish territory, that first was despoiled by Nazi Germany, and then nationalized by the communists.

Representative Chris Smith (R-NJ4), one of the founders of the unicameral, House of Representatives only, Congressional Caucus on Poland, sponsored in 2005, and again in 2007, House Resolutions calling for Poland to pay lump-sum compensation. Therefore, it is anything but surprising that to date only five members of the Congressional Caucus on Poland have agreed to co-sponsor H.R. 2388 calling for Poland's prompt accession to the Visa Waiver Program now administered by the Department of Homeland Security.

For further information please review the Appendix to President Spula's letter of September 17, 2016 to then Senator Barbara Mikulski, which is posted on the web site of the national PAC in the column "Office of the President".

Those who support lump-sum compensation argue that the Polish judicial system is slow and unfair to claimants. Those who oppose lump-sum compensation argue that a one-size-fits-all lump sum compensation settlement is unfair because each claim is specific. Both opponents and supporters of lump-sum compensation are skeptical of Polish judges, many of whom owe their appointments to transformed communists who benefited from the "privatization", sometimes labeled "re-privatization", of property despoiled by the Nazi Germans and then nationalized by the communists. The Jewish American Congress, whose most famous member Alan M. Deshowitz sued in the early 1990s Cardinal Glemp over the presence of the Carmelite Nuns Monastery near the former Nazi German Concentration Camp Auschwitz, recently opened an office in Warsaw to press their claims for compensation.

Soon a political action committee will be established to defeat Representative Chris Smith and support friendly candidates in Southern New Jersey.

Best regards,
John Czop

Polish American Congress Meets in Washington, D.C.

September 25 - 28, 2017

The Polish American Congress (PAC) held its annual Council of National Directors (CND) Meeting September 25-28, 2017. The Hilton Garden Inn, near President Ronald Reagan National Airport in Arlington, VA., was the venue for the CND's business meetings and banquet on September 25. On Tuesday 26 September the national directors and their guests boarded a bus to Washington, DC for an all-day-event, Polish American Congress Advocacy Day For Poland on Capitol Hill, which included, for the first time, a Reception/Rally in prestigious Congressional Meeting Room, North, with brief speeches delivered by members of the Congressional Caucus on Poland and Polish Government officials representing the Embassy and the Polish Cultural Institute in New York City. The CND continued its business meetings at the Hilton Garden Inn on Wednesday and Thursday.

The keynote speaker and Guest of Honor at the CND's opening session was Reverend Mirosław Krol, newly appointed Chancellor of Orchard Lake Seminary in Michigan. Reverend Krol thanked the PAC for playing a major role in helping Orchard Lake to continue its mission on behalf of the Church and Polonia.

The members of the PAC Executive Committee, Mrs. Micheline Jaminski, Honory Consul Debbie Majka, and Messrs. Anthony Bajdek, Hubert Cioromski, and Richard Mazella delivered their reports at Monday afternoon's session. Mrs. Bożena Kaminski's well received report on Polish Affairs included remarks by a surprise guest speaker: Mrs. Anna Holden, Unit Chief, Counter Terrorism Division, U.S. Department of Justice. The PAC is making good progress.

The Guest of Honor at Monday evening's banquet, Piotr Wilczek, Ambassador of the Republic of Poland, praised the achievements of the PAC from its establishment, in 1944, to the present. Ambassador Wilczek called on the PAC to continue its advocacy for permanent NATO armed forces bases in Poland, with troops from western Europe and North America, at this time of resurgent Russian imperialism and aggression. Professor Marek Chodakiewicz's keynote address called on the PAC and Polonia to open their checkbooks so we can persuade official and public opinion that a strong and truly sovereign Poland protects United States National Security Interests and promotes American values of freedom and free enterprise in the lands between the Baltic and Black Seas.

Polish American Congress Advocacy Day For Poland on Capitol Hill had two components. First, PAC national directors, who represent the 19 states where the PAC has Divisions, and their guests, visited the offices of their United States Senators and Members of the House of Representatives. They delivered two strong messages. First, resurgent Russian imperialism requires strengthening NATO's northeastern flank to ensure Poland's security. Second, members of the House of Representatives should co-sponsor H.R. 2388. President Spula persuaded Congressman Mike Quigley to sponsor this resolution calling for Poland's prompt accession to the Visa Waiver Program. Soon there will be a similar Senate resolution.

Advocacy Day For Poland on Capitol Hill concluded with a Reception/Rally in Congressional meeting Room, North. President Spula asked Congressman Quigley to sponsor this prestigious room for the PAC's event on the evening of 26 September from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Brief speeches were delivered by:

Members of the delegation were Micheline Jaminski, Hubert Cioromski, and Dr. Mark Pienkos, who delivered remarks about Kosciuszko. In 1910 the Polish National Alliance gave this magnificent monument to the United States. President William Howard Taft presided over the dedication ceremonies.

The PAC Council of National Directors resumed its business meeting on Wednesday. Ian Brzezinski, Director of the Brent Scowcroft Center, of the Atlantic Council explained the various measures taking place to protect Eastern European nations that are NATO members, including the Republic of Poland. Wednesday's meeting continued with discussions on ways to improve communication within the organization, as well as action on resolutions.

Zbyszek volunteered to be a member of the "Welcoming Committee" at the PAC Council of National Directors Meeting in Washington, D.C. Other volunteers assisting Klara Wisniewska (PAC Administrator) were Halina Koralewski and Mark Pienkos. Besides providing information and handouts, the "Welcoming Committee" also gave bottles of water and Polish candy bars to arriving National Directors. This was all part of the effort to provide "Polish Hospitality" to PAC members.

Several people asked about ways to get a similar PAC banner for their own state division. Interested? For details, please contact Mark Pienkos, PAC Vice President for Public Relations. Mark's email is: markpienkos2012@gmail.com.

The banner is a great way to highlight your state division at meetings and events you sponsor. Also, a great background for photos!
